From: P1 Leaders
To: Clauzel, Michael (SHF)
Subject: The 5 Ps of policing; Why sergeants are MVPs
Date: Thursday, May 03, 2018 4:39:58 PM

May 3, 2018 | View as webpage

Download the Mobile App

Dear Police Leader,

Getting into a squad car may be the most dangerous thing the officers under your command do every day. In our latest PoliceOne Digital Edition, "Officer Safety on the Highway," we explore how police leaders can combine advances in technology with proactive, progressive training to make real inroads into reducing the number of officers injured on the roadway. Download your copy, brought to you by Pursuit Response.

— The PoliceOne Team

FEATURED ARTICLES

Lessons in Leadership: The 5 Ps of policing

Why police sergeants are an agency's MVP

MORE POLICE LEADER COLUMNS

How LAPD is using tech to improve safety, transparency and engagement

A multi-faceted strategy

Make the Most of Your Data

AWS brings the agility and scalability of the cloud to solutions in artificial intelligence, wearable devices, and data management that support innovation in policing.

Request more info

POLICE CAREERS

Why 'free speech' keeps costing cops their careers

By Val Van Brocklin, P1 Columnist

Not understanding the legal arena for speech and how it's been changed by the internet is resulting in career fatalities and making police work more dangerous.

The solution

POLICE LEADER EXCLUSIVE

5 quotes police leaders can use to increase officer safety and success

By Doug Wyllie, PoliceOne Senior Contributor

Follow the advice in these five quotes to enhance leadership of your troops and improve relationships in your community.

Achieve success

NLEOMF Report Details Seven Years of LE Fatality Trends

How a closer look at police deaths could change the way you train and help save your life.

Read the report

LEADERSHIP NEWS

- Union votes no-confidence in Fla. sheriff after school massacre
- Baltimore commissioner apologizes for '200 years' of policing
- Pittsburgh chief joins opposition to concealed carry gun law expansion
- Philly's top cop apologizes to men in Starbucks arrest

MORE POLICE LEADER NEWS

Could MOP's approach to public statements help chiefs?

When police leaders make public statements regarding controversial incidents they need to take this approach.

PoliceOne does not send unsolicited messages. You are receiving this email because you have signed up for PoliceOne and subscribed to this newsletter. Click here to unsubscribe. Visit our Customer Support page to report any email problems or subscribe to our other newsletters.